Classified In Camera, Ex Parte Declaration of Dennis C. Blair, Director of National Intelligence Virginia Shubert, et al. v. United States of America, et al. (No. 07-cv-693-VRW; MDL No. 06-1791)

1. (U) I am the Director of National Intelligence (DNI) of the United States. I have held this position since January 29, 2009. In 2002, I retired as an Admiral from the United States Navy after a 34-year career, which included my service as Commander-in-Chief of the U.S. Pacific Command. During my naval career, I also served as Director of the Joint Staff and as Associate Director of Central Intelligence for Military Support, as well as in policy positions on the National Security Council staff. From 2003 to 2006, I was President and CEO of the Institute for Defense Analyses, an organization that analyzes and makes recommendations on

I. (t) INTRODUCTION

2. (U) The purpose of this declaration is to formally assert, in my capacity as the Director of National Intelligence and head of the United States Intelligence Community, the military and state secrets privilege (hereafter "state secrets privilege") and a statutory privilege under the National Security Act, see 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1), in order to protect intelligence sources and methods that are at risk of disclosure in this case. The statements made herein are based on my personal knowledge as well as on information provided to me in my official capacity as the Director of National Intelligence.

II. (U) SUMMARY

3. (B) In the course of my official duties, I have been advised of this lawsuit and the allegations at issue in the plaintiffs' Amended Complaint. In personally considering this matter, I have executed a separate unclassified declaration dated October 30, 2009. Moreover, I have read and personally considered the information contained in the Public and In Camera, Ex Parte Declaration of Lieutenant General Keith B. Alexander, Director of the National Security

/HCS//ORCON/NOFORN/

Agency, executed on October 30, 2009 (hereafter "Classified NSA Declaration"). Disclosure of the information covered by this privilege assertion reasonably could be expected to cause exceptionally grave damage to the national security of the United States and, therefore, the information should be excluded from any use in this case. In addition, it is my judgment that sensitive state secrets are so central to the subject matter of the litigation that any attempt to proceed in the case will substantially risk the disclosure of the classified privileged national security information described herein and will therefore risk exceptionally grave damage to the national security of the United States.

For these reasons, as set forth further below, I request that the Court uphold the state secrets and statutory privilege assertions that I make herein, as well as the statutory privilege assertion made by the NSA, pursuant to Section 6 of the National Security Agency Act, see 50 U.S.C. § 402 (note), and protect the information described in this declaration from disclosure.

III. (N) CLASSIFICATION OF DECLARATION

6. —(S//SI//NF) Pursuant to the standards in Executive Order No. 12958, as amended by Executive Order No. 13292, this declaration is classified as: TOP SECRET//TSP//COMINT-//HCS//ORCON/NOFORN//

The details concerning these classification markings are set forth in paragraphs 8-11 of the Classified NSA Declaration and are briefly summarized here. Under Executive Order No. 12958, information is classified "TOP SECRET" if unauthorized disclosure of the information reasonably could be expected to cause exceptionally grave damage to the national security of the United States; "SECRET" if unauthorized disclosure of the information reasonably could be expected to cause serious damage to national security; and "CONFIDENTIAL" if unauthorized disclosure of the information reasonably could be expected to cause identifiable damage to national security. At the beginning of each paragraph of this declaration, the letters "U," "C," "S," and "TS" indicate respectively that the information is either UNCLASSIFIED, or is classified CONFIDENTIAL,

(U) The responsibilities and authorities of the Director of National Intelligence are set forth in the National Security Act of 1947, as amended. See 50 U.S.C. § 403-1. These responsibilities include ensuring that national intelligence is provided to the President, the heads of the departments and agencies of the Executive Branch, the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and senior military commanders, and the Senate and House of Representatives and committees thereof. See 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(a)(1). The DNI is also charged with establishing the objectives of, determining the requirements and priorities for, and managing and directing the tasking, collection, analysis, production, and dissemination of national intelligence by elements of the Intelligence Community. Id. § 403-1(f)(1)(A)(i) and (ii). The DNI is also responsible for developing and determining, based on proposals submitted by the heads of agencies and departments within the Intelligence Community, an annual consolidated budget for the National Intelligence Program for presentation to the President, and for ensuring the effective execution of the annual budget for intelligence and intelligence activities, and for managing and allotting appropriations for the National Intelligence Program. Id. § 403-1(c)(1)-(5).

13. —(U) In addition, the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, provides that "[t]he Director of National Intelligence shall protect intelligence sources and methods from unauthorized disclosure." 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1). Consistent with this responsibility, the DNI establishes and implements guidelines for the Intelligence Community for the classification of information under applicable law, Executive orders, or other Presidential directives and access to and dissemination of intelligence. Id. § 403-1(i)(2)(A), (B). In particular, the DNI is responsible for the establishment of uniform standards and procedures for the granting of access to Sensitive Compartmented Information ("SCI") to any officer or employee of any agency or department of the United States, and for ensuring the consistent implementation of those standards throughout such departments and agencies. Id. § 403-1(j)(1), (2).

14. (B) By virtue of my position as the Director of National Intelligence, and unless otherwise directed by the President, I have access to all intelligence related to the national security that is collected by any department, agency, or other entity of the United States. See 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(b); Executive Order 12333 § 1.3(a). 46 Fed. V. (K) ASSERTION OF STATE SECRETS PRIVILEGE knowledge and information obtained in the course of my official duties, including the information contained in the Public and Classified In Camera, Ex Parte Declarations of Lieutenant General Keith B. Alexander, Director of the National Security Agency, I have determined that the disclosure of certain information—as set forth herein and described in more detail in the Classified NSA Declaration—would cause exceptionally grave damage to the national security of the United States and, therefore, must be protected from disclosure and excluded from this case. Thus, as to this information, I formally assert the state secrets privilege. In addition, it is my judgment that sensitive state secrets are so central to the subject matter of the litigation that any attempt to proceed in the case will substantially risk the disclosure of the privileged information described herein and will therefore risk exceptionally grave damage to the national security of the United States.

VI. (b) ASSERTION OF STATUTORY PRIVILEGE UNDER NATIONAL SECURITY ACT

16. (II) Through this declaration, I also hereby invoke and assert a statutory privilege held by the Director of National Intelligence under the National Security Act to protect the information described herein. See 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(l). My assertion of this statutory privilege for intelligence sources and methods is coextensive with and protects the information subject to my state secrets privilege assertion.

VII. (T) INFORMATION SUBJECT TO ASSERTIONS OF PRIVILEGE

17. (N) In general and unclassified terms, the following categories of information are subject to my state secrets and statutory privilege assertions:

- A. (W) Information that may tend to confirm or deny whether the plaintiffs have been subject to any alleged NSA intelligence activity that may be at issue in this matter; and
- B. (N) Any information concerning NSA intelligence activities, sources, or methods that may relate to or be necessary to adjudicate plaintiffs' allegations, including allegations that the NSA, with the assistance of telecommunications carriers, indiscriminately intercepts the content of communications and also, to the extent applicable to plaintiffs' claim, the communications records of millions of Americans as part of an alleged "Program" authorized by the President after 9/11. See, e.g., Amended Compl. ¶¶ 1-8, 58.

(b) The scope of this assertion includes but is not limited to:

- (i) (L) Information concerning the scope and operation of the now inoperative "Terrorist Surveillance Program" ("TSP") regarding the interception of the content of certain one-end international communications reasonably believed to involve a member or agent of al-Qaeda or an affiliated terrorist organization, and any other information related to demonstrating that the NSA does not otherwise engage in the content surveillance dragnet that the plaintiffs allege; and
- (ii) (U) Any other information concerning NSA intelligence activities, sources, or methods that would be necessary to adjudicate the plaintiffs' claims, including, to the extent applicable, information that would tend to confirm or deny whether or not the NSA obtained from telecommunications companies communication transactional records; and
- (iii) (K) Information that may tend to confirm or deny whether any telecommunications carrier has provided assistance to the NSA in connection with any alleged activity.

VIII. (8) DESCRIPTION OF INFORMATION AND HARM OF DISCLOSURE

A. (U) Information Concerning the al-Qaeda Terrorist Threat

18. (LD) To the extent specific information about the al-Qaeda threat is relevant to litigation of plaintiffs' allegations as to post-9/11 actions taken to meet that threat, such information could not be disclosed without revealing intelligence sources, methods, and information of the United States and thereby causing exceptionally grave damage to the national security. Therefore, I assert the state secrets and statutory privilege to protect such information from disclosure.

19. (S//OCANF) The intelligence activities, sources, and methods that are implicated by this lawsuit, and put at risk of disclosure in further proceedings, must be viewed and understood in the context of the extremely serious threat faced by the United States. In sum, the Intelligence Community assesses that al-Qaeda remains intent on conducting terrorist attacks inside the United States. This is so notwithstanding a series of setbacks to the al-Qaeda terrorist network.

Preventing such attacks is the U.S. Intelligence Community's highest priority, and the Intelligence Community is collecting information aggressively against the al-Qaeda network to uncover indications of credible threats.<sup>2</sup>

The severity of that threat and the difficulty of tracking al-Qaeda is precisely the reason the Government is utilizing all lawful intelligence gathering capabilities. I set forth this information not only to provide the Court with crucial background as to why the intelligence activities implicated by or directly at issue in this case are being undertaken, but also to assert a claim of privilege over this threat information. Although the foregoing threat assessment demonstrates why the Government undertakes the activities described herein, the Government cannot disclose this threat information in defending the legality of the intelligence activities, sources, and methods being challenged, since to do so obviously would disclose to our adversaries what we know of their plans and how we may be obtaining information about them. Such disclosures would lead our adversaries not only to alter their plans, but also to implement greater security for their communications, thereby increasing the risk of non-detection. In addition, disclosure of threat information might reveal human sources for the United States and, thus compromise those sources and put lives in danger. Accordingly, although I believe this threat information is crucial to understanding the NSA intelligence activities, sources, and methods implicated by the plaintiffs' allegations, I must assert the states secrets privilege and the DNI's statutory privilege over this classified threat information because of the exceptionally grave danger to national security that could reasonably be expected to result from its disclosure.

B. (D) Information That May Tend to Confirm or Deny Whether the Plaintiffs Have Been Subject to the Alleged NSA Intelligence Activities

31. Next, I am also asserting privilege over information that would reveal whether particular individuals, including the named plaintiffs in this lawsuit, have been subject to the alleged NSA intelligence activities. Disclosure of such information would cause exceptionally grave damage to the national security.

TOP SECRETI//TSP//COMINT  32. —(TS//TSP//SI//OC/NF)
33. (b) The NSA cannot publicly confirm or deny whether any particular individual is subject to surveillance activities. If the NSA were to reveal that an individual is the target of surveillance, the collection capability of that individual would certainly be compromised. On the other hand, if the NSA were to reveal that an individual is not the target of surveillance, adversaries would know that a particular individual has avoided surveillance and is a secure source for communicating. Moreover, providing assurances to those individuals that are not being targeted quickly becomes unworkable when faced with a case in which the individual has in fact been targeted. If the NSA were to confirm that any specific individual is not the target of surveillance, but later refuse to confirm or deny that information in a case involving an actual target, it would be apparent that surveillance was occurring in the latter case. The only recourse for NSA is to neither confirm nor deny whether someone has been targeted or subject to NSA activities, regardless of whether the individual has been targeted or not. To say otherwise when challenged in litigation would result in the frequent, routine exposure of NSA information, sources, and methods, and would severely undermine surveillance activities in general.

(b) I am also asserting privilege over any other facts concerning NSA intelligence activities, sources, or methods that may relate to or be necessary to adjudicate the plaintiffs' claims, including, but not limited to, allegations that the NSA, with the assistance of telecommunication companies, has indiscriminately intercepted the content and obtained large quantities of communications records as part of the Program authorized by the President after 9/11. See, e.g., Amended Compl. ¶¶ 1-4, 58. As noted above, my privilege assertion encompasses (1) facts concerning the operation of the now-defunct Terrorist Surveillance Program, including any facts needed to demonstrate that the TSP was limited to the interception of the content<sup>3</sup> of one-end foreign communications reasonably believed to involve a member or agent of al-Qaeda or an affiliated terrorist organization, and that the NSA does not otherwise conduct a dragnet of content surveillance as the plaintiffs allege; and (2) information concerning whether or not the NSA obtains communication transactional records from telecommunications companies.

(U) As the NSA indicates, see Public NSA Decl. ¶ 19, the NSA's collection of the content of communications under the TSP was directed at international communications in which a participant was reasonably believed to be associated with al-Qaeda or an affiliated organization. Thus, as the Government has previously stated, plaintiffs' allegation that the NSA has indiscriminately collected the content of millions of communications sent or received by people inside the United States after 9/11 under the TSP is false. I concur with the NSA that to the extent it must demonstrate in this case that the TSP was not the content dragnet plaintiffs allege, or demonstrate that the NSA has not otherwise engaged in the alleged content dragnet,

22	allege that the NSA is conducting a dragnet program of content surveillance, disproving
24	plaintiffs' speculation would risk or require revealing NSA intelligence activities, sources and
25	methods, including bulk meta data collection activities. The stakes we face in the U.S.
26	Intelligence Community are of the highest magnitude. We know that al-Qaeda continues to plan
27	a mass casualty "spectacular" attack inside the United States again that would cause catastrophic
28	loss of life, severe economic harm, or threaten the continuity of government. The NSA's

(b) CONCLUSION 4 49. (W) In sum, I am asserting the state secrets privilege and the DNI's statutory 5 privilege set forth in 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1) to protect the classified national security 6 information described herein and in the Classified NSA Declaration. Moreover, because 7 proceedings in this case risk disclosure of privileged and classified intelligence-related 8 information, I respectfully request that the Court not only protect that information from 10 disclosure, but to take all steps necessary, including dismissal of this action, to protect the 11 intelligence information, sources, and methods described herein in order to prevent exceptionally 12 grave harm to the national security of the United States. 13 14 15 I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct. 16 17 Klav DATE: 30 Oct 2019 18 19 Director of National Intelligence 20 21 22 23 24 25 26 27 28
